

Carol Frederick wears many hats. She is a mother, a wife, a volunteer, and a community builder. Carol has committed years of service to this community. Beyond volunteering in her children's school, she became a member of the PTA, eventually becoming President. When her children went on to middle and high school, she offered her time and energy as the president of the PTSA. For years, she has gone above and beyond the call of duty. It's too often that the hard work and dedication of individuals like Carol go overlooked and unrecognized.

Carol has held many volunteer positions centered on quality and fair education over the years and continues to do so, even after her own children have graduated from Ferndale Schools and gone on to college. Carol has volunteered as a former trustee for the Ferndale Education Foundation, as well as a former treasurer of the Citizens for Quality Schools. She was ultimately elected to the Ferndale Schools Board of Education where she served several terms.

Even now, she Chairs the Eagle's Pledge Committee- a scholarship initiative to help graduates of FPS pursue education beyond high school. Carol understands that a vibrant community has roots in the quality education that it offers its residents.

By focusing on Ferndale's children and their education, Carol exemplifies the grass roots fellowship of citizens that make up this wonderful city. Today, we are honored to recognize her years of service with this Good Neighbor Award. Thank you, Carol.
